Context

Whether you are studying a decision, an event, a work of art, a movie, a piece of news, a book or basically any creation made by a human being, it's important to understand the conditions under which it happened.

Choose something you want to give context to (the creation you're researching):

Where did it happen?

¿Cuándo sucedió?

Who were involved and how? (perspectives, individuals, communities etc)

Were there any other similar “human creations” that were important for what you are researching? Describe them.

How did the context affect the creation you are researching?

How did the creation you are researching affect the context?
