My Ideal Society

Have you ever imagined if an ideal community existed, what would it be like? The time has come to bring this society to life. The following questions will give you clues so you can think about this world. You can write or draw your answers. What matters most is that you illustrate your ideas.

Where does your community live? (On an island? In the mountains? On another planet? ...)

How do people live in this community? What do they eat? How do they sleep?

How do people communicate in this community? (Do they speak? Do they write? Do they draw? By telepathy? ...)

What kind of activities do the people who are part of this community fulfill? (Do they grow food? Do they work or rest? Do they live from the arts? ...)

How would they relate to each other?

Do they admire someone or something special?

Do people in this community believe in something? (A superior being? An ideal? A person? ...)

What types of art and science do they develop?

What do the people in this community stand out for?

How do they transmit their knowledge?
